FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media Contact:
Lexi Robinson
lrobinson@piersongrant.com
954-776-1999 ext. 255

Cutline:
Photo 1: A still from Yoshida Yasuhiro's "Enoshima Prizm" (© 2013 "Enoshima Prizm" Production Committee)
Photo 2: A still from Matsui Daigo's "Wonderful World End" (©2014 Avex Music Creative Inc.)

Two Japanese Films to be Shown at University of Miami September 16, 23 in Free "Love in Japan Movie Screenings"

MIAMI, Fla. (August 29, 2016) – The Consulate-General of Japan in Miami and the University of Miami (UM) invite guests to experience the "Love in Japan Movie Screenings," two Japanese films to be shown on September 16 and 23 at UM's Whitten Learning Center 170, located at 5150 Brunson Drive in Coral Gables.

Suitable for avid film aficionados and occasional moviegoers alike, the films are in Japanese with English subtitles and represent the common theme of young love. Admission is free and parking is free after 4 p.m. at UM's parking garages 1-109, 2-109, 209A, 209B and 209C, which are shaded in red on the campus map (http://bit.ly/2bOUpZS).

The screenings include:

September 16 at 6 p.m. – Enoshima Prizm (directed by Yoshida Yasuhiro)
Shuta (Fukushi Sota), Saku (Nomura Shuhei) and Michiru (Honda Tsubasa) have grown up together, sharing a complicated mixture of friendship and love for each other. However, in the winter of their second year of high school, Saku dies in an accident. On the third anniversary of his death, Shuta develops the ability to travel through time.

© 2013 "Enoshima Prizm" Production Committee

September 23 at 6 p.m. – Wonderful World End (directed by Matsui Daigo)
Seventeen-year-old Shiori's (Ai Hashimoto) gothic Lolita garb attracts the attention of Ayumi (Yu Inaba), a timid 13-year-old girl. Ayumi's growing infatuation takes an unforeseen turn when she runs away from home and infiltrates Shiori's life.

For more information, please contact webmaster@mi.mofa.go.jp or call 305-530-9090.

©2014 Avex Music Creative Inc. "Wonderful World End"

###